BASE HOSPITAL UNITS

HOW THEY WERE FORMED AND WHAT CONSTITUTED THEIR ORGANIZATION

Everything relating to service at the front is eagerly read and that is mostly what is treated of in letters from the boys. Hence some experiences in an equally vital part of the work, that of hospitals, will be of great interest. Mrs. J. F. Daugherty of 700 East Harvard kindly permits us to print the following letter from her sister, Miss Grace Phelpps, which shows how a hosptial unit is formed and the work it does:

When the call for the organization of a base hospital unit came in May, 1917, great excitement prevailed throughout the nursing circles in Oregon. Every nurse was imbued with the spirit of patriotism, anxious to do her bit—and at that time the big bit seemed to be to get to France. All sorts of applications to join the unit were received, but when the necessary qualifications, "moral, mental and physical," were considered, the enrolling of 100 nurses, three stenographers, one dietitian and two laboratory technichians was no easy task. First to be reckoned with were the "too young class' and the "too old class." Then there were the "physically unfit" and the "married ones" who wanted to go with their husbands. Next came the problem of the necessary but expensive equipment. Many nurses who had family responsibilities found they could not meet this expense. As on each and every occasion, when called upon, the Portland Chapter of the Red Cross arranged to have the extra equipment supplied to the nurses free of cost.

New orders and instructions from Washington were being received almost daily. Physical examinations must be made and approved, the prophylactic typhoid, para typhoid and small pox treatment given. Many and varied sad tales of the organization of the nursing personnel of our unit could be told, but we have learned to avoid sad stories.

Would the order for duty ever come? And what would that order be—cantonment duty or direct to France? The first orders came November 24, 1917, for ten nurses—six to proceed to Camp Lewis and four to proceed to Letterman General Hospital. Five nurses who were members of a unit to go to Roumania, but who were recalled when our relations were severed with that country, were attached to us and came with our four nurses from Letterman General to Vancouver Barracks, where they remained until all were sent to New York. February 21, 1918, ten more started for Camp

LIKED GLENDALE BEST

Two sisters, Mrs. J. H. McDonald and Mrs. A. D. Dunn, of Coleman, Texas, have purchased the Bellan home at 1145 East California avenue where Mrs. McDonald and her baby will make their permanent home, as Mrs. Dunn plans to return to Texas where her home and all her interests are, in about two weeks. Mrs. McDonald comes to California on account of the health of her child, which suffers from a weakness of the heart which she hopes will be overcome in this favorable environment. She did not purchase until she had visited all the well known suburbs of Los Angeles including Hollywood and Pasadena and decided that she liked Glendale the best of all.

SOLDIER NEAR DEATH

F. D. LANTERMAN VISITS CAPTAIN COLLINS WOUNDED IN ARGONNE NOW IN SAN DIEGO

F. D. Lanterman, of La Canada, made a quick drive to San Diego Thursday at the request of a surgeon at the Base Hospital there to see a soldier boy who was very seriously injured in the Argonne fight, Captain E. Z. Collins, formerly connected with the City Engineer's office of Los Angeles. The Captain received a piece of shrapnel in the upper part of the left leg in September last. The resulting wound destroyed a large section of the bone and it was feared he would not rally from another operation which was found to be necessary last Wednesday. In that operation six inches more of the bone was taken out, leaving the leg shortened that much more in consequence. He rallied somewhat Thursday and the surgeons thought there was a bare chance of his recovery. Mr. Lanterman has not heard since but hopes Captain Collins will pull through.

THE WAR MEMORIAL

GREATER GLENDALE DEVELOPMENT ASSN. RECEIVES AND ADOPTS WHITE'S REPORT

The proposed soldiers' memorial, civic center and park were the chief objects of consideration at the meeting of the Greater Glendale Development Association held in the library of the Intermediate School Tuesday evening.

The report of Richardson D. White of the Monday night meeting of the special committee representing the various organizations of the city was received together with the estimates prepared by Clarence Jay of the cost of improvements. These estimates were as follows:

Cost of planting and laying of walks	$ 5,000.00
Tennis and handball court	650.00
Swimming pool	4,500.00
Gymnasium	12,100.00
Auditorium	75,000.00
Incidentals	2,750.00
Making a total of	$100,000.00

Added to these figures would be the cost of the unimproved block opposite the Sanitarium at the northwest corner of Jackson and Broadway which is stated to be about $40,000 and the cost of the Sanitarium property reported as $55,000, a total of $95,000.

Mr. White stated that it was the unanimous sentiment of those present at the Monday night meeting embodied in a recommendation to the Greater Glendale Development Association that it bring the matter of a soldiers' memorial, civic center and park before the City Trustees at once and ask them to call a bond election within thirty days for $200,000, said election to be held at the same time that the election for $180,000 of water bonds is held. He informed the Association that the representatives of numerous organizations assured the meeting they had secured an expression from the bodies they represented favorable to the project, others had sounded the sentiment in other ways and were satisfied it was for the memorial. In closing his report he said:

"We feel we are in a position to

INSTALLS CHECK DAMS

FLOOD CONTROL ENGINEER PUTS IN EIGHTY IN PICKENS CANYON

The Flood Control engineer has completed his work on Pickens Canyon in the installation of about eighty check-dams for the purpose of controlling the heavy flood water that formerly came down through the Verdugo Wash and did such great damage in the storms of 1913-14.

This work, if a success, will be of inestimable value to the city of Glendale in the matter of flood control, and it will be watched with a great deal of interest by all concerned.

OVER THE TOP

MANAGERS OF GLENDALE'S SALVATION ARMY DRIVE REALIZE THEIR OBJECTIVE

To the great satisfaction of Ezra Parker, chairman; LeRoy Kent, secretary, and Herman Nelson, treasurer of the Salvation Army Drive in this city, they are able to report $1,369 in the bank and $70 in pledges as a result of the canvass. The seventy dollars will undoubtedly be collected within a day or two so the money can be sent to headquarters. The greater part of the territory was thoroughly gone over by conscientious workers but there were some districts in which it was impossible for them to find canvassers. Their records show that the money turned in represents the subscriptions of not less than 600 people. It is impossible to determine the exact number because in several instances a lump sum was turned over by an organization or a group of people.

Glendale's quota was $1,300. It has therefore been exceeded by ten per cent. and that excess may be swelled by late subscriptions. If all communities do as well the Salvation Army will have a tidy sum to use for the many kinds of uplift work they are conducting.

COLORADO BOULEVARD P.-T. A.

The regular meeting of the Colorado Boulevard P.-T. A. will be held Thursday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock. The speaker will be Mr. Cheeseman, from the Boy Scout headquarters in Los Angeles, who will speak on Boy Scout Camp Activities. A musical program will be rendered, also pupils from the Pearl Keller School will give readings. A full attendance is desired.

PEACE AFFAIRS COMING TO A HEAD

MARSHAL FOCH NOTIFIES GERMANY ALLIES WILL NOT TOLERATE ANY TRICKERY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Paris, April 2.—Certain official headquarters here declared today that the final decision on some of the important questions before the peace conference would be reached before Saturday.

In the meantime Marshal Foch has gone to Spa to meet Mathias Erzberger, representing Germany. It is expected that Foch will tell Erzberger that the Allies will not tolerate trickery on the Danzig or any other question.

It is believed here that Foch has won the members of the "Big Four" to his plan regarding the Rhine question, calling for the elimination of all military work on the left bank of the Rhine and within a zone thirty-one miles wide on the right bank.

An agreement also seems to have been reached that France is to have the right to exploit the Saar Valley as compensation for the devastation of Northern France.

A concrete proposal from Russia for a cessation of hostilities, bearing Lenine's signature, is before the conference. Simultaneously the conference received reliable information that Karl Jantsky, German radical, is now in Moscow trying to arrange a German-Russian alliance.

PEACE OUTLOOK CLOUDED

BELIEVED THAT CONTINUED INDECISION AT PARIS WILL TRANSFER AUTHORITY TO REVOLUTIONISTS

Washington, April 2.—President Wilson, with the support of Lloyd George, is beginning to shake the lethargy from the peace conference.

It can be stated authoritatively that the President has determined to get action, even if it is necessary to shock some of the European chancelleries. He tried soft words as far back as January, but Europe is still divided and many countries are actually despairing of any hope for a successful termination of the peace conference.

Some parties here have expressed doubt as to whether the Paris conference still can make peace. Authoritative advices show the hand of Lenine and the German Spartacans is being felt with increasing force at the conference, and those close to the President believe that continued indecision at Paris will result in the real authority passing to the growing masses in Europe who are over-riding order.

TWENTY THOUSAND TROOPS FROM OVERSEAS

TRANSPORTS ORIZABA AND LIBERATOR BRING MEN FROM 364TH, 361ST AND 363RD INFANTRY

New York, April 2.—Nearly twenty thousands troops are scheduled to arrive here before night from overseas. The transports Orizaba and Liberator were the first arrivals. Aboard the Liberator were 1,259 men of the 363rd Infantry. Aboard the Orizaba was a large number from the 364th and 361st Infantry.

LAST OF CASUALTY LISTS

SECRETARY OF WAR ORDERS THAT THEY NO LONGER BE SENT OUT, COMMENDING THE PRESS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Washington, April 2.—Secretary Baker today ordered discontinued the present method of mailing out casualty lists, saying the end of the list has been practically reached. He commended the general efficiency and kind co-operation of the American press in handling the list, and declared that the newspapers have "thus rendered an unprecedented service."

SOLDIERS ILL TREATED

INDIGNANT GLENDALE LADY WRITES SPIRITEDLY OF SOLDIERS' RIGHTS

Mr. Cowan, Editor of Glendale News:

This morning two soldiers, one of whom was a wireless operator, who had been across and back five different times on transports carrying our boys, and the other in the fierce battle of St. Mihiel, and who was shell-shocked and gassed, and whose hair turned white in one night with the horrors of what he had seen, have been canvassing Glendale, taking subscriptions for a good magazine.

Both were gentlemanly, nice appearing soldiers, and yet the one who came to my home told me the door had been slammed in his face three different times. The one whose hair had turned gray battling for us at home, had not taken one subscription, although not strong, and his living depending on it. He made this remark to the soldier boy that was at my home: "Is that the kind of people I fought for?"

Do you wonder they are thinking that way? I confess when I heard this gentlemanly soldier relate some of his experiences in Glendale, I was surprised and pained to think that some of the people had forgotten so soon.

These boys must have something to eat. Most of them are doing this work as a makeshift till they get something better. Are we of Glendale who have boasted of going "Over the Top" in all bond issues, and all the different drives during the war, going to let our patriotism slack when our boys, who have won the war for us, and have given health, time, and in many cases their lives to do it, come to us to help them earn their livelihood? Most everyone in Glendale could help in the subscriptions they ask for, and every one can at least give them a pleasant smile and an encouraging word.

MRS. E. U. EMERY.

THEY HAVE THEIR WISH

A few weeks ago the Evening News stated the dilemma of J. F. Bradley and wife of Interlaken, New York, who were determined to spend a few months in Glendale but could not rent a place to live. They remarked at the time that maybe they would have to buy a place in order to satisfy their wish. Sure enough this was the case and now they are located in their own home at 351 Myrtle St. Their son, L. B. Bradley, has bought Dr. H. C. Smith's home at 1233 Dorothy Drive and now the two families are permanent residents.

ELKS GO TO SANTA BARBARA

Dad (A. J.) Malarky and several other Elks motored to Santa Barbara Tuesday to visit the Elks' Lodge of that city where Albert D. Pearce had been invited to act as installing officer. The party included Sam Malarky, Mr. and Mrs. Pearce, Mr. and Mrs. Cameron D. Thom, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Priest and Jimmie Mason. Casey Brain also took a party of six from the Los Angeles Lodge. The local lodge was also represented by its quartette, H. G. Henning, Norman D. Otis, Jack Wagnon and Walter Butterly.

DEFENDERS' LEAGUE

SERVICE BOYS HOLD SECOND MEETING AND FORM ORGANIZATION

A goodly number of service boys of Glendale and vicinity met in Elks' building Tuesday evening to form a temporary organization looking to a permanent league to be affiliated with some national or international organization. J. F. McBryde presided as chairman until the arrival of Capt. Dru Nicoles and W. B. Kelly acted as temporary secretary, and presented the following resolution: "It is hereby resolved that this assemblage of honorably discharged men of the U. S. Army and Navy, and of men still in the service of the same, do hereby organize under the name of League of American Defenders, the purpose of said organization being to cement into a closer union and to perpetuate the memories of all those men who answered our country's call." After considerable discussion this resolution was adopted unanimously. W. B. Kelly then addressed the assemblage, urging that this organization must be non-political and non-sectarian, which sentiment was heartily applauded.

On motion, a temporary League was formed, with chairman and secretary, said chairman to appoint a committee of five to draft constitu-

BIG TASK ENDS

EXEMPTION BOARD VACATES QUARTERS AT CITY HALL AND TURNS OVER RECORDS

F. D. Lanterman, head of the local Exemption Board, turned back to the city the key to the headquarters the Board has been occupying in the City Hall and with that transfer the Board went out of existence Tuesday. All of its records had been forwarded to government officials, and all its property in the shape of files and office equipment had been disposed of at private sale at the prices fixed by the government.

Mr. Lanterman says he resigns the work with a feeling of relief over a big task completed. "Because I was foot-loose," he says, "and able to give time to it, I was made chairman of the Board and assumed the larger share of responsibility, but my associates also rendered the most loyal and valuable assistance. Frank Muhleman always was ready to lend a hand no matter what sacrifice it might involve, and Mattison B. Jones always held himself subject to the call of the Board. Through our united efforts the work has been carried to a very successful and satisfactory conclusion.

"We all feel that we did justice in the difficult work of classification under the questionnaires, and although there are in the neighborhood of thirty or forty delinquents who, we expect, will be brought on to the carpet for investigation and prosecution, our part of the work is done and any further steps will be taken by the federal authorities, the legal department now having a large corps of investigators at work. The full number of delinquents was 233, but about 200 were aliens. The other thirty-three will receive all that is coming to them and there should be a good deal coming because of the fact that they sacrificed their neighbors and associates by escaping service themselves and forcing other people to take their places."

NEW COMERS WITH MONEY IN HAND

John F. Chandler, the real estate man, tells as an evidence of the way in which Glendale lures new residents of a client who recently came to him with a draft for $5,000 to be invested in a home here. He had thoroughly investigated the suburban towns of the county and had been living in Sierra Madre, and after careful weighing of advantages and disadvantages had decided Glendale was the place for him. He has bought property and is bringing another friend to the town who is investing $4,500. One criticism which this new comer made in the first place was that Glendale has no park. He has probably been reading the papers and learned that this defect will soon be remedied.

PRESBYTERIAN ACTIVITIES

The annual meeting of the Presbyterian church and congregation will be held at the church this evening, 7:30. Reports from the various organizations will be an interesting feature of the meeting.

Elders, deacons and trustees will be elected, and general business will be transacted. All members of the congregation are expected to be present.

"Victory Campaign" begins next Sunday and continues for two weeks.

Special meetings will be held every afternoon and evening except Saturday. The general public is invited. Rev. French E. Oliver, D.D., the noted evangelist, is the chosen leader of the campaign.

THE K. G. STUDIO

NEW FILM COMPANY OWNED AND MANAGED BY RICHARD KIPLING AT BACHMAN PLANT

Glendale has another active picture plant in the K. G. Studio which is operating at 827 East Windsor Road making two-reel comedies with a company of about thirty-five people. Richard Kipling, the owner and general manager, has been in the theatrical business for about twenty-two years, part of the time with comic operas. He was general manager of the Consolidated Amusement Company of Honolulu in 1910 and 1911. With him is Alf Goulding of Australia, who has been for two years with the Rolin people and who has been directing the Harold Lloyd pictures for the past two years. He writes his own scenarios and directs them himself. He has been operating in Glendale for about a month, but this week the studio is being used by the Bruntons in putting on scenes for their film, "The Westerners."

CHILDREN MUST BE KEPT BUSY

It is coming to be realized more and more, as the years go by, that child life is a subject for deep study. Just as "man cannot live by bread alone," so the child cannot thrive on nothing but work. This is recognized in larger cities, where playgrounds under competent management are located in convenient places, and the eagerness with which children throng to these recreation centers is evidence of their need. Children ought not to be compelled to play ball in the streets or against a brick wall. In America, where the baseball is as familiar as the coat or hat, the boy just must have a place to play ball, and if no place is furnished him, he will seize on the most convenient location, irrespective of the desires of his elders. And so, also, with girls. They need outdoor recreation to develop vigorous bodies and banish the seeds of disease. One centrally located playground, or two or more scattered about the city, ought to be seriously considered.

And it is not the children alone whose needs should be considered in this connection. Our boys who put on the blue or olive drab, who carried a rifle, served on a gun crew, drove a motor truck, manned a warship, submarine or destroyer, or skimmed the air in dauntless forays, these are the children of yesterday and they need recreation just as surely as do the children of today. All work and no play dulls the sensibilities and dwarfs the soul. Especially now that our boys are coming back from battlefield and camp, should their welfare in this respect be looked after, so as to keep them contented at home. With a recreation center, where good books and magazines could be enjoyed, unobjectionable games indulged in and swimming enjoyed, they would not feel it necessary to rush off to beach or mountain as a relaxation from toil. Glendale should have, not only a playground for children with a wise overseer who understands and sympathizes with child life and needs, but a civic center for young people, where they can play tennis, basket ball and kindred games, or dive into a big swimming pool at any time. Let us look more after the young lives that are coming on to take our places, people of Glendale.

MAKING THINGS SAFE FOR SOLDIER BOYS

Complaints are heard frequently of men masquerading as soldiers and demanding patronage from householders for various articles offered for sale, sometimes at exorbitant prices. On the other hand, deserving soldiers seeking to gain a bare livelihood by taking subscriptions for periodicals, selling music, post cards or other things, claim that they are often mistreated or ignored by people they approach. It is evident that the latter class suffers as a result of the fraud practiced by the former. Determined efforts have been made in various cities to bring to justice these men who dishonor the uniform and betray the confidence of patriotic householders, but still the abuse continues in some measure. It has been suggested that every soldier desiring to canvass the city for the sale of any article whatever, or for subscriptions to periodicals, be required to go first to the mayor or city clerk, present his credentials, and secure a certificate from said official which could be presented on demand of any customer. This would protect both soldier and householder.

SCHOOL OF HEALTH

The School of Health referred to in yesterday's issue opened last evening at the Adventist Church on the corner of Wilson avenue and Isabel street with a large attendance, and two lectures—one by Dr. Julia A. White on "Diseases and Their Treatment," and one by Dr. Johnson on "Anatomy and Physiology."

Great interest was shown by the fifty or sixty pupils, mostly members of the local S. D. A. churches.

I wish to correct one error in yesterday's paper, namely, that the school is being conducted under the auspices of the local church and not by the sanitarium. The doctors of the sanitarium have very kindly given their services free of charge and the sanitarium is co-operating with the church in the work of the school, but the church is conducting it.

Another point to be noted is that on account of the large attendance of members of our local churches, Glendale and Burbank, we will not be able, as yet, to throw open the privileges of the school to the public on account of limited accommodation, especially for demonstration of treatments in hydrotherapy and cooking.

The public may attend the lectures in the church, but without attendance at the demonstrations a certificate could not be given at the close of the course.

R. W. MUNSON,
Acting Pastor.

The resignation of Mrs. W. D. Root as Secretary of the State W. C. T. U. in charge of the offices of the organization in Temperance Temple at Temple street and Broadway, takes effect today. She felt that she must be released from that responsibility in order to get ready for her larger work in the campaign for world prohibition.

William Chappell is in Glendale today and expects to be here again next week, after which he will leave for the home of his daughter, Mrs. Dr. Newland, in Holden, Missouri, where he expects to spend the ninety-day furlough granted him by the Soldiers' Home at Sawtelle, a furlough which he can renew if he wishes to remain longer.

Mrs. Frank W. H. Dow returned Monday from Sierra Madre, where she had been visiting Mrs. Gibson Kelley, formerly of Glendale. Among the pleasant incidents of the visit was a reception to introduce Mrs. Dow to Mrs. Kelley's friends in Sierra Madre and a visit to the balloon school at Arcadia to see the big sausage balloons and hangars of the Aeroplane Department.

Mrs. W. E. Heald of Lomita Ave. is looking forward to a visit from her sister, Mrs. C. C. Tate, of Abeline, Texas, who has a son in the naval reserve at San Diego soon to be discharged. She has two other sisters in California, one in Long Beach, another in Strathmore. After she and her son have visited them and seen something of the State, they will return to Texas together.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid and of the missionary societies of the First Methodist Church of Glendale will be held at the church Thursday, beginning at 10:30 a. m. A luncheon will be served at noon for which 25c will be charged and which will be open to business men or any others who care to patronize it. There will be morning and afternoon sessions, the Aid Society meeting in the forenoon.

Patrons of the book review at the Glendale Public Library had another pleasant afternoon Monday considering some of the Russian authors, Tolstoy, Turganieff, Pushkin and Gogol. One of the ladies in attendance gave a review of "Crime and Its Punishment." Next Monday the class will consider books of criticism such as "Varied Types" by Chesterton and "An Appreciation of Literature" by Woodbury.

The Evening News has been advised that the 364th Infantry of the 91st Division reached New York Tuesday and will be in quarantine there for ten days, after which California men will be sent west for demobilization. Quite a number of Glendale boys are in Company B of the 364th. These men were due to arrive in New York Monday, as reported that day in the telegraphic despatches of the Evening News, but probably the transports were delayed and did not reach port as soon as expected.

The brilliancy of Glendale's leading business thoroughfare, Brand boulevard, has recently been increased by a handsome electric sign above the entrance of the Webb Dry Goods Store. Mr. Webb is taking a great interest in his business here and in the appearance of his store. He has just embellished his show windows on the boulevard with a fringed valance which he personally designed and had made to order. It is a finishing touch which greatly adds to the setting of his attractive display.

Mrs. Julia M. Graham, of San Francisco, Department President of the States of California and Nevada, is visiting circles of the Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic in Southern California and while here is stopping with her niece, Mrs. Rol King, at 507 North Kenwood street, this city. Mr. and Mrs. King have just purchased the property from John Marquardt and moved here from Los Angeles last week. Mr. King is an extensive owner of mines in Arizona.

NEWS OF TWO GLENDALE BOYS

Lieut. Alfred W. Knight, who was Asst. Mess Officer at sorting yards mess, at Brest, France, is now at Toulouse attending the Toulouse University. On the way he made a short visit in Paris. He says that "Toulouse is a very pretty city, just big enough to have good stores, etc., and the climate here is wonderful. The Garonne river winds through the city and there are some very picturesque bridges across it. Altogether, I don't think this will be a bad place to spend the next three or four months.

"I met Doug Balthis the night I was in Marseilles, where he was visiting on leave.

"There are 1,500 American soldiers, including 300 officers, at the University. They are sent by the government, but pay their own tuition fee."

BENEFITED BY WAR

Mrs. C. W. Rivers of this city, daughter of Mrs. A. H. Harding of 707 Orange Grove avenue, left with her husband for San Francisco Tuesday evening. Mr. Rivers was discharged from service in the aviation corps of the navy and returned from the east about two months ago. He has been called to Mare Island where he worked in the civil service ranks before he entered service. He is a second class mechanic, he likes the work and the climate and will receive better wages than before because of his navy training. He was advanced two or three times and his rank will qualify him for a better grade of work. He has therefore profited by the war.

BOWLING EVENTS

The Bowling Team of the Glendale Elks' Lodge is to bowl next Friday with the Knights of Columbus team, and the following Tuesday with the Del Monte team, the champions of Southern California. Both these events have been arranged by Joe Fortunato who has made special arrangements for the entertainment of these guests to insure them a good time.

W. C. T. U. MEETING

Mrs. Daisy Grant of the Arbor Rest Home Sanitarium, 1209 East Lexington Drive, will entertain the Glendale W. C. T. U. Friday afternoon, April 4th. Meeting will open at 2 o'clock, as there is special work to do. Members should bring needle and thimble to tie comforts. Delegates to the county convention will be appointed. Everybody welcome.

IMMIGRATION

ADVISABILITY OF STOPPING IT TO BE DEBATED BY GLENDALE AND HOLLYWOOD

The league debate on the question: "Should Congress Enact a Law Forbidding Immigration for Four Years" will take place next Friday night. John Worley and Leland Wise who are scheduled to debate the affirmative side here will be opposed by Elizabeth Matson and Harold Reeves of Santa Monica. The young people from the beach city are both seniors and good speakers though they have had no special experience heretofore in debate.

Frank Balthis and Philip Wernette are scheduled to present the negative side of the question the same night at Hollywood against Frank Moody, who spoke here in January, and Ruth Snyder, daughter of the principal who was one of the Hollywood team which defeated Santa Monica on the railroad question. Frank Balthis has been indisposed for a day or two and confined to his home, but hopes to be well enough for the debate Friday. If not a substitute will be sent in his place. Meanwhile his three associates on the team spent Tuesday in Los Angeles where they visited the Los Angeles library looking for material, and had interviews with officials at Labor Temple and at the Federal and State Immigration Bureaus, all by way of preparation for Friday night. It is hoped that the weather will continue pleasant and that a good delegation of Glendale High students will journey to Hollywood to give courage and support to the school's representatives who will be up against the strongest debaters the Hollywood School has.

STARS TO TWINKLE AT PALACE GRAND

Glendale patrons of the Palace Grand Theatre and that means almost all Glendale, will be glad to know they are to have another chance to see "Cheating Cheaters," the big film which has attracted such large audiences in Los Angeles and elsewhere when advertised. It is on the screen tonight.

Wednesday the celebrated star, "Geraldine Farrar," will be seen in "Shadows." It is described as thrilling in action and full of tense situations which sustain the interest from beginning to end. Since the change in time the shows open at 2:30 and 7:15. Besides the big picture there will be Lyons-Moran comedy.

"Extravagance" with Dorothy Dalton in the leading role will be the offering Thursday, and a good comedy.

HARD TIMES PARTY

A jolly time was enjoyed by about one hundred young people of the First Baptist Church of Glendale Tuesday evening at a Hard Times Party, held in the social hall of the church. April fool games, doughnut eating contests, trials of driving rubber tacks and like diversions furnished entertainment after which refreshments which had been brought by the guests—a doughnut and an apple apiece—were enjoyed together with hot coffee served by the entertainment committee. A great deal of sport was afforded by the auctioning off of a "dimand pin" in a jewel case for which a bid of 63c was secured, but when it was found to be a safety pin and dime, the bidder defaulted in payment.

The costumes in which the guests were arrayed were varied and unique and the first prize went to Miss Hazel Palmer.

FAREWELL PARTY

Mrs. George E. Clayton of 200 South Orange street was hostess at an informal little party Saturday evening in honor of her sister, Mrs. Helen Karp of Chicago, and her son, George E. Clayton, who has been in naval service as a yeoman at San Pedro and recently released. The guest list included neighbors and a few friends of the son of the house. George and his aunt leave today for Chicago where he will spend a month and then go east as he has relatives in Atlantic City and New York. If he likes it there and finds a good business opening he will probably remain. While his mother is desolated to lose him so soon after he has been returned to her by Uncle Sam, she believes it is for his interest to go and is trying to be philosophical over it.

VICTORY CAMPAIGN

Prayer Circles are being held by the Presbyterians all over Glendale this week in preparation for the two weeks of evangelistic meetings commencing next Sunday under the leadership of Rev. French E. Oliver. The local churches are endeavoring to carry out faithfully all the suggestions of the General Assembly regarding the New Era Movement. "The movement was inaugurated to lift the church out of the reaction which would inevitably follow the war and to capitalize the new spirit of sacrifice and service." The men and women who love the church and who really pray "Thy Kingdom come" are the program. We must begin to think in terms of the nation and of our responsibility for the Kingdom of God. The Social Service Commission urges the study group idea. It is the only method by which to get the people interested. Faith, purpose and energy are needed to undertake the work. Dr. Oliver will speak twice daily except Saturday, the afternoon talks being given to study lectures, and the evening sermon purely evangelistic. Dr. Oliver is one of the mighty men of this part of the country and no one should miss this opportunity to hear him.

Custer. Then another tedious wait, during which time several changes were made in the nursing personnel and those who were ready became quite nervous, thinking that the war would not be properly finished unless we were there to lend a hand. March 4, 1918, one nurse went to Camp Kearney. March 15, 1918, six others landed at Camp Lewis. March 21, 1918, four to Camp Dodge. The big day was on April 6, when more than thirty nurses left the North Bank station for various cantonments. There could be no doubt in our minds on that day as to the devotion of our friends. The scene at the station rivalled the going away of a bride—so many bouquets, bonbons and magazines. Thirteen went to Camp Dix, five to Camp Merritt, ten to Camp Stuart, ten to Camp Greene, eight to Camp Meade, eight to Camp Hancock, seven to Camp Lee, and on April 8 four more were sent to Camp Upton. All the nursing personnel of the unit were now on duty at the above cantonments, being instructed in army hospital methods and incidentally caring for the great number of sick men of the young army soon to be sent overseas. Again a long wait for orders, which finally came "to proceed without delay to mobilization station, Holley Hotel, New York City, to report upon arrival to the commanding officer at the port of embarkation for duty overseas."

One step nearer France! Our five weeks in New York was, indeed, a mad rush. The nurses arrived and were sent to different hotels; later all were quartered at the Madison Square Hotel. A regular schedule was established, nurses were checked in and out, must be on time for meals, must attend drill at the 71st Armory (some drill), must be outfitted, purchasing of the unit flag, identification tags, passports, French for the intellectually inclined. A continuous scramble for tickets to the many shows, bus rides. A great rivalry existed among the nurses as to who could find the best and cheapest restaurant, this to vary the Madison Square diet. The churches were most hospitable. There were special services and teas. Nurses' Club made us feel perfectly at home. A beautiful party was given at the residence of Dr. James, where we were entertained by celebrities. We must mention Dr. and Mrs. Reed and Lieutenant Dale as playing a very important part in our stay in New York. We were scheduled to head the Red Cross section of the Fourth of July parade, but again the order which kept us moving, and instead of participating in the greatest parade New York ever had, we were told to go quietly away from our hotel in small groups, to be at the port of embarkation not later than 3 o'clock that afternoon. This was accomplished, but can we forget the mobilization of our baggage in the corridors of our hotel? This included the community box and the flag. The servants of the hotel were not supposed to know that we were leaving. After a wait of perhaps four hours at the pier, we went aboard the wonderfully camouflaged Aquitania, a British transport. No detail had been omitted and in the shortest possible time all assignments had been made and we were comfortably located in our staterooms.

We were requested not to dance by the commanding officer of the boat, but other amusements were furnished, such as music, singing, and afternoon tea. Daily fire drill, which was not intended for amusement; but which usually furnished its full quota, were had. Life preservers were worn continuously throughout the voyage.

We were convoyed for several hours out of New York, then we were alone until within two days of Liverpool, when, early in the morning, five destroyers came, almost simultaneously, upon the horizon. All on board our ship thrilled when these little "live wires" of the sea slipped into our path. Everyone had the feeling of wanting to lean over the railing to give them a hearty hand shake or hug and whisper, "Gee, we're glad you're here." All that night the guns of the little destroyers and of our vessel kept booming. The nurses, life preservers on, life saving suits within reach, slept but little. It was a question next morning whether or not the officers had gone to bed at all, as they were heard going up and down the corridors all night and in the event that a nurse met an officer in the corridor he assured her with gusto that there was a storm at sea and that it was thunder instead of guns that she heard. However, next morning we knew the truth, submarines had been chased and one sunk.

We disembarked at Liverpool about 8 p. m. July 12th—the nurses were the last of the many thousand aboard to leave the boat. We left by rail for Southampton between 9 and 10 p. m. English Red Cross served coffee at a way-station at midnight. At daybreak all blinds were up and heads crowded about the car windows to catch glimpses of the picturesque fields, roadways and thatched roofed villages. Arrived at Southampton in the early morning. Hotel accommodations were poor, food very poor, no sugar, no tea and a limited supply of bread. That afternoon, we were taken by a lighter and put aboard a hospital ship, which dropped down to the Bar made famous by Tennyson's "Crossing the Bar," and remained there till dark. All lights out, the well-convoyed ship moved cautiously forward for its perilous trip across the Channel. Reached Le Havre July 14th, the Liberty Day of France. Again, no sugar, no bread, congested hotels, but the joy of the American "boys" upon seeing us equaled our own on seeing them. Left Le Havre on July 15th. Hasty breakfast at the Red Cross refreshment booth at railroad station in Paris, then bundled on to a train. By this time we were beginning to realize that we were in a country at war. At home were new uniforms, fresh and enthusiastic troops—in France were shabby uniforms and soldiers very tired and worn looking, perhaps not so wildly enthusiastic, but none the less determined.

One hundred and five very weary women reached Bazoilles-sur-Meuse, Vosges, France, at 8 p. m. on July 19th, all so glad to reach our station and to see our splendid officers and men, who certainly had prepared for our coming. After a hot bath, a good dinner, we lay aside all our cares and had the first real good night's sleep since leaving New York. Our breakfast was served to us in bed by a few of the more energetic nurses, it being the order of the commanding officer that nurses should stay in bed the next day, if they cared to do so. Now we were ready to do the thing that should come our way.

say to you that we think the city of Glendale as represented by its various religious, fraternal, social and other organizations is strongly in favor of this proposition."

J. Herbert Smith then offered a motion that the report of the committee be adopted and action be taken as recommended. The motion was seconded by Charles W. Ingledue, and the chairman announced that the subject was open to debate.

Edwin Pierce urged immediate action pressing the argument made by Dr. Harrower that it should be taken before the vacation season when the town scatters more or less and when it will not be possible to enlist the school children in the campaign for an institution by which they are to benefit greatly.

The question of the unanimity of sentiment for the project was discussed at length by President Wells, A. T. Cowan, Edwin Pierce, Charles Ingledue, Roy Kent, J. Herbert Smith, Secretary C. D. Lusby, T. W. Watson, Rev. A. B. Smart, John F. Chandler, Charles L. Chandler, V McLean Hollister and W. B. Kirk.

It was the consensus of opinion that a majority vote for the proposition could be depended upon when the people thoroughly understand it.

An offer from the publishers of the magazine "Worth While," printed at Long Beach, agreeing to publish monthly, without cost, a write-up of Glendale, was read by the secretary and was referred to the Committee on Publicity.

The recent increase in freight rates on the Southern Pacific Railroad was mentioned by Mr. Hollister, and the imminence of a general increase in rates was substantiated by President Wells, but no action was taken in regard to that matter or in regard to post-office conditions in Glendale which Mr. Cowan and others testified were in no way improved or likely to be improved, judging from the treatment he had experienced in having to wait while a long line of patrons were served at the one window kept open.

tion and by-laws for permanent organization, same to report at next meeting, to be held in Elks' building, Thursday evening, April 17th. J. F. McBryde, Capt. Weisenheimer, W. B. Kelly, Howard McGillis, R. E. Barr were appointed as said committee. A committee of three to secure permanent place for meetings, and to boost for membership, was appointed, consisting of W. B. Kelly, Prof. R. D. White and J. W. Sharpe. A committee of three, Dr. Willisford, Ed Moniot and H. C. Welch, was appointed to look after securing employment for discharged soldiers and sailors, paying special attention to those cases where men promised that their jobs would be held for them, had been turned down on their return or given the choice of taking it at reduced salary.

The matter of alleged insults to crippled soldiers endeavoring to make a living by soliciting subscriptions for magazines and selling articles for household use, etc., was discussed. It was urged that in justice to honorable soldiers seeking thus to gain a livelihood, investigation should be made of all applicants to determine whether or not they were genuine or merely masquerading in uniform, as had been found the case in some instances.

Dues were fixed temporarily at $1.00 a year and Thursday evening chosen as permanent meeting time.
